

Non-Subpoena Contract for Clients in Couple, Family, or Child/Parent Therapy

This contract is an agreement between interested parties that no party shall attempt to subpoena my testimony or my records for a disposition or a court hearing of any kind for any reason.

All parties acknowledge that the goal of psychotherapy is the amelioration of psychological distress and interpersonal conflict, and that the process of psychotherapy depends on trust and openness during the therapy sessions.

Therefore, it is understood by all parties that if they request my services as a psychotherapist, they are expected not to use information given to me during the therapy process for their own legal purposes or against any of the other parties in a court or judicial setting of any kind.

Signature of parent, guardian, or authorized representative

Date

Signature of parent, guardian, or authorized representative

Date

Signature of parent, guardian, or authorized representative

Date

Signature of parent, guardian, or authorized representative

Date

Adapted from a revised version of a marital therapy contract by Jan Hembree, PhD
© 2010 The Center for Ethical Practice.